

What we do:

The SAY Patrol(Safe Aboriginal Youth Patrol) is a program funded by Attorney General Department for the safe transport of young people to their homes, sporting events, youth centres or a safe place at night.

The aim of the SAY Patrol is to provide safety for young people at risk of danger or anti-social behaviour.

Contact the Bus on

Mobile: 0458 095 499

Call in and visit the

Neighbourhood Centre

Suite 1/80 Gipps Street

Dubbo NSW 2830

P: 02 6882 2100 F: 02 6884 3994

We are now on Facebook

Supporting Stronger

Communities

Safe Aboriginal Youth Patrol

Suite 1/80 Gipps Street

Dubbo NSW 2830

P: 02 6882 2100 F: 02 6884 3994

E: info@dnc.org.au

Web: www.dnc.org.au

Safe Aboriginal Youth Patrol—SAY Patrol

The SAY Patrol(Safe Aboriginal Youth Patrol) is a program funded by Attorney General Department for the safe transport of young people to their homes, sporting events, youth centres or a safe place at night.

The aim of the SAY Patrol is to provide safety for young people at risk of danger or anti-social behaviour.

The SAY Patrol team are, friendly, well respected role models, who are dedicated to the care and protection of our youth.

They can be relied upon to offer confidential support to children, youth and community members in need.

The SAY Patrol team can provide information and referral to services that can assist in emergency situations or they can be simply just a friend to talk to.

The patrol services the community on
Friday and Saturday nights
6.00pm—1200pm

If you have a complaint about the service you are welcome to discuss the matter with our Co-ordinator

0458 095 499 or 02 6882 2100.

It is a condition when using the patrol service that:

- No drugs or alcohol are permitted on the bus
 - No violence, threats, intimidation or offensive language will be tolerated
 - Graffiti or willful damage to the bus will result in suspension of the service until further notice.
-